Miss Blanche Robarge left for her home in Plunket, Sask., on Monday. Her presence in the dining room will be missed by all patrons of the hotel, with whom, on account of her cheerful disposition, she was always very popular.

The contract for the new house was awarded to the Oyen Construction Company. Work was commenced yesterday and the building which will be located on First Avenue West, will be completed as early as possible.

The Bachelor's Club Dance given in the Billiard Hall last Friday was a great success. The date of the next dance will be announced in next week's issue of the Oyen News.

Will the ladies in town, who wish to do something in the way of assisting the needy in our district kindly meet at the home of Mrs. R. L. Dial on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 15th, at three o'clock sharp. A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies interested in the work.

Lost - A ribbage board. Will the finder kindly return same to the office of the Oyen News and receive reward.

Official communications state that the situation in the province of Alsace remains practically unchanged.

The allied forces content with defensive tactics for the past two weeks have assumed the aggressive and reports state that the German forces have been compelled to retire all along the line.

The commander of the German forces to the east of Paris asked for an armistice to bury the dead and attend to the wounded, but the request is reported to have been refused.

The German forces in France probably totalling 750,000, are facing a most critical situation. The severe strain on the men is telling and their army is pretty well worn out. They are encountering the comparatively fresh soldiers of the allies, whose forces are being steadily and rapidly enforced.

The German army are in a hostile country and a long way from their home base. They are today probably at their greatest strength, while the allies are constantly adding to their forces.

The following message was sent to Lord Kitchener from M. Millerand, the French war minister.

"I am pleased to transmit to you the cables by telegram which General Joffre requested me to send to you."

"The commander-in-chief of the French armies expresses to Lord Kitchener his appreciation."

Will Germany Ask For Peace?

The agreement recently made between the allied powers to the effect that they will simply, neither accept nor make peace overtures, unless the other two powers agree, must bring home to the Kaiser the futility of his efforts. With Great Britain, France and Russia arrayed against him, the best he can possibly hope for is the worst of it. Serbia and Montenegro are continually proving their superiority against the Austrians in spite of the fact that they are invariably outnumbered and as the Austrian army in the north is getting the worst of the exchanges with the enormous Russian army, Germany cannot count on much help from her ally and her position becomes more serious daily.

Turkey seems to vacillate between jumping in and taking a hand, and being sensible and remaining neutral. Italy still maintains her neutrality and if she joins in she will go against Germany and Austria.

Taking all these facts into consideration Germany is indeed in a sad plight to-day and before long the War "lord" will be compelled to realize, if he does not do so already, that a cessation of hostilities is the only thing to save the total destruction of his army and empire.

THE POUND LAW

Another cruel question that has been in the minds of the people of this neighbourhood during the past months is the Pound law which is supposed to be in force in this municipality. This law seems to be nothing more or less than a farce. A few days ago a man was cutting his grain when a number of stray animals came along and tramped right through the grain. According to the present law there was nothing for this man to do but stop cutting, leave his outfit and catch the animals and then drive them 12 or 14 miles to the pound, a job which would necessitate the loss of a whole day for which trouble he is unable to collect any remuneration. Knowing that he would not receive compensation for loss of time, as the pound law only insists on payment for damages and feed, he just drove them off his own place. The animals went on to his neighbours place and got among his grain when a row was commenced.

As it stands, the Pound law should not be tolerated, and remedies to its drawbacks should be devised immediately by those in office.

During threshing operations last Thursday, a straw stack caught fire when the outfit owned by Mr. Olson narrowly escaped destruction. By quick action and good judgement the fire was controlled however and the outfit saved.

While standing in the street watching the bulletin board at the Saskatoon Star office Henry Padburg of this neighbourhood had his pocket picked two weeks ago. A few days before the theft Mr. Padburg sent the bulk of his money home and his loss (fifty dollars) was not so bad as it might have been.

Miss Kathleen Conkol of Alsenk, spent last week here looking over the Misses Fredericksen.

Messrs. Fredericksen and Leslie, sold fifty tons of hay last week. They are cutting hay on a whole section of land.

The wheat crop in this locality is yielding from ten to thirty bushels to the acre and grading well.

The government's gone to Buenos Aires. There was no occasion to grieve. But a large German shell, Would surely play havoc With the records of a nation's you know.

More About the Prairie Fire at Excel

If the person who brought in the report of the prairie fire near Excel would confine herself closer to the truth, the report would not appear so ridiculously wrong, and as said person was personally present at the fire it appears as though the report was intentionally exaggerated.

Mr. Caskey, who is reported to have lost all his crop on 27-28-5, lost seven (7) stacks, and in due respect to Mr. Caskey, let me inform the public, that in spite of the loss by fire and loss, damage, all 7 stacks and 7 times that again and some more stacks left.

If the Excel reports were confined more to chicken hatching they may not appear so ridiculously exaggerated.

FEED FOR STOCK

The following letter was received by Mr. A. E. Collings, of Oyen, from the Law Stock Commissioner of the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton, and will know doubt be of interest to a great number of the farmers in this locality.

Edmonton, Alta.,
August 20th, 1911.

Dear Sir,

It has been reported to this Department that, owing to the drought in the south part of the province, many of the settlers will not have sufficient feed to winter their stock, that some will have to sell, while others will want to have their animals wintered at a cash price per head or let them out on shares.

The Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to put northern farmers in direct communication with those of the south in order that they can deal with one another and thus eliminate middlemen's charges, which in times such as these are always high.

I would be pleased to have you furnish me with the names of each settler in your district, giving their post office and section, township and range; as well as have sufficient feed to winter their animals, and after each man's name state whether they are horses, cattle, sheep or swine, the approximate number, the approximate age, (if of different ages state the number of yearlings, two year olds, etc.) the sex and any other facts that will aid the interested purchaser to get a fair idea of what is available. State also the kind of arrangement each person wishes to make, whether by cash, wintering one a cash, basis, or letting out on shares for six months or one, two or three years.

The Department will assist in organizing shipments and distributing same.

Trusting that you will cooperate in this work, I remain
Yours very truly,

Law Stock Commissioner.

Canadian Troops Are Vaccinated

The Canadian Army Medical Corps is inoculating against typhoid fever all soldiers at Valcartier. This is a somewhat new and unknown procedure to most people and word about it is not out of place. The procedure is the injection of this serum underneath the skin in three doses, each ten days apart after which the body is immune or only slightly susceptible to the action of the typhoid germ for at least 18 months.

Among the first to try inoculation against typhoid was the English army who used serum in the Boer war; that proved to be not what they expected. Bacteriologists have since altered the serum and the result has been given more than two years' trial with results that were all that could be wished for. This inoculation is now compulsory in many hospitals, of all nurses and attendants and in the United States army of all soldiers. A slight percentage of those treated show some malaise and indisposition for a few days after inoculation otherwise no untoward symptoms appear.

General Sir William Robertson, the British forces during the whole course of the operations. At the present moment that support seems valuable and is manifestly in a very energetic manner in the action now engaged against the German right wing.

"I am expressing my gratitude to Field Marshal French, who has always lent to our armies the most effective collaboration. Allow me in the name of the government to join the expression of my gratitude to that of the generalissimo."

To this Lord Kitchener has replied: "These troops and transport to Gen. and Joffre my most sincere thanks for the telegram you have had the kindness to address me. I ask you to be sure and cause General Joffre to be told how content the British army is to find itself collaborating with the French army, and how proud we are to make such a contribution to their support of which you speak so generously, and on which you can always rely with the greatest confidence."

Additional Items

All persons are cautioned to take special care of all foodstuffs milk and drinking water. This is the season when typhoid manifests itself and flies are one of the most dangerous sources of transmission of this infection.

Mrs. Simon Crowley of Fairacres who was taken ill yesterday is reported to be doing nicely.

Mr. Frank Kennedy was a visitor in town yesterday. He left for Alonsk this morning.

Mrs. G. H. Scott and Miss Shirley Scott left for Kindersley this morning where they will spend a short visit.

Mr. Jack McKenna returned to town on Tuesday after a successful trip selling horses in Saskatchewan.

The Financial District Meeting of the Youngstown District was held in Chinook on Thursday and Friday of last week. Rev. P. S. Parrott of Youngstown presided. Rev. Arthur Bunker, Superintendent of Missions was present and a careful survey of the finances of each circuit was made. Owing to the financial conditions many fields in the province will have to do without a minister temporarily and every circuit was urged to do its best.

The Quarterly board of the local church have decided to use the Envelope system of finance for ordinary revenue. This system wherever tried and faithfully followed has always proven satisfactory, and the Board hopes that as many contributors as possible will adopt the system. Mr. H. R. Fox has been appointed Treasurer and envelopes may be secured on application.

A meeting of the bachelor's club will be held on Monday evening. For time and place see the Secretary.
